STUDY AND CAREER AVENUES FOR COMMERCE STUDENTS

Vijay Prakash Srivastava

Few subjects never lose their relevance. Commerce is an evergreen subject and for many students a preferred choice. Even when a degree in engineering or technology is one of the most sought after qualifications, there is no decrease in the popularity of commerce. One major advantage with commerce is that one does not have to spend a lot for studying this subject whereas courses in engineering, medicine, architecture etc. require huge financial cost particularly at private institutions. So a commerce education is economical. But you should choose commerce only if you find the subject interesting and have an aptitude for it.

Commerce can be chosen as stream of study at 10+2 level. However, if you have been a student of science, you may take admission to a B.Com course after your 12th standard. Admission to a commerce course is mostly merit based. Your score in the previous examination will be taken into account to determine your entry to the course. You are not required to go through tests like JEE or NEET needed for entry to many engineering medical and few other professional courses.

Commerce is mainly concerned with trade and business activities such as sale of goods and services by producer to retailer and the end user. As a commerce student, you will be studying accounting principles, economics, business and investment strategies. The subject will enable you to prepare balance sheets, trading accounts, profit and loss statements and various other statements depicting the financial health of a business. You will also learn about business accounting.

To gain entry to a commerce based career you should have at least a B.Com degree. It takes three years to complete this degree. While a plain B.Com is offered by most of the institutes, some also offer it in varied form such as B.Com in Banking and Insurance, B.Com in Taxation and with other combinations. After becoming a commerce graduate, you have a number of options. You may go for postgraduation in Commerce (M.Com) which will take another two years. Even if you decide not to pursue M.Com, you have a number of options for further studies such as Management: Those who are keen to grow into a management professional, a postgraduate degree/diploma in Management makes complete sense. In many respects, students of commerce will find the course familiar and easy to understand. The course you choose should be full time with duration of two...
When Talent, Dedication, Determination and Sportswoman Spirit come together, only then a champion is made. In our country, most of the sportsmen hail from the smaller towns and villages. Our team that is going to Tokyo too has many such players whose lives inspire us a lot. Praveen Jadhav (Archer from Satara district of Maharashtra), Neha Goyal (Hockey player from Haryana), Deepak Kumar (Boxer from Bhiwani in Haryana), Priyanka Goswami (Rowboat from Muzaffarnagar in Uttar Pradesh), Shivpal Singh (Javelin thrower from Banaras), Chirag Shetty and his partner Sarika Sairai (Men's Double Slalom in Canoeing) and Vishal Kausnik (Boxer from Bhiwani in Haryana). C.A. Bhavin Devi (Fencer from Chennai) and many other players have struggled a lot. The players going to Tokyo faced scarcity of means and resources in their childhood, but they persevered and endured with fortitude. Every player going to Tokyo has had one's own share of struggle, and years of toil. They are going not only for themselves but for the country. These players also have to enhance the glory of India and win the hearts of the people and that is why my countrymen I want you to know that we should not pressure these players knowingly or unknowingly, but support them with an open mind and foster the enthusiasm of every player.

Friends, when we are talking of the Tokyo Olympics, how can one forget the legendary athlete Milkha Singh. Some days ago, Corona snatched him away from us. When he was in hospital, I got an opportunity to talk to him. While talking to him I had urged him to boost the morale of our athletes going for the Olympics. He was so committed and emotional for sports that he immediately gave his consent even during his illness. We all know that the entire story of this great athlete Milkha Singh has been dedicated to sports and has been adding to the glory of India.

On the June 21, the next phase of the vaccination campaign commenced... and that the very day, the country registered a record of administering vaccines to over 60 lakh people, free of cost... and this indeed is the strength of New India. But we have to keep making efforts to ensure that every citizen is able to avail safety through the vaccine. Rashtriya and Kishorilal Divle from Gram Panchayat Dutaria, Bhopur Block shared their experience about hesitancy to vaccine because of rumours and misleading information. We should not pay attention to rumours at all. Through the year many senior scientists have put in hardwork to make this vaccine and that is why we have to believe in science and scientists. Explain to these propagators of falsehood that many people have taken vaccine and nothing untoward happens. We have to save lives...we have to save our villages...and our countrymen. If someone says Corona is gone, do not be under this mistaken notion. To protect ourselves, we have two ways. One is adhering to the protocol for Corona — wearing a mask, frequently washing hands with soap, maintaining distancing...and the other way is... along with all this, getting vaccinated.

Somebody this will be a subject of case study for the world that how during this problem period India of year 2020 in India, our forest dwelling tribal brothers-sisters displayed their capabilities and understanding. People of villages set up quarantine centres, made Covid protocol as per local requirements. People of villages did not let anybody sleep hungry, did not let work in fields stop either. The villages also ensured daily supply of milk and vegetables to nearby cities that it, they took care of themselves and of others too. We have to maintain the same spirit in the vaccination campaign too. We have to be aware and make others aware too. We have to keep making efforts continuously... register victory over Corona.

When the clouds rain, they rain not only for the plants, also for the generations to come! I consider water conservation as a form of service to the country. Satchidanand Bharti ji of Pauri Garhwal, Uttarakhand is a teacher and has imparted very good education to the people through his deeds. The huge water crisis in the Utrakhand area of Pauri Garhwal has come to an end because of his hard work and today, there is continuous supply of water throughout the year. In the hills there exists a traditional method of water conservation, Chakkai. It involves digging a big pit to collect water. Bharti ji added some new methods to this tradition and turned the hills of Utrakhand green along with solving the water problems of village Dehradun.

The people of Anchav village in Banda district of UP have also made an innovative effort and have given a very interesting name to their campaign "Khet ka pani khet mein, gaon ka pani gaon mein". Under this campaign, high bunds have been raised in several hundred hibags of fields of the village. As mountain rainwater started collecting in the field, and started percolating into the ground.

There are many trees and plants around us which have amazing medicinal properties, but many times we do not even know about them. Pardeep Singh ‘Jal’ came to know about miraculous medicinal properties of Giloy and many other plants only after the outbreak of Corona! Also Mr. Ramotan Kushwaha from Satna of Madhya Pradesh has built a museum of indigenous plants on his farm, where he has collected hundreds of medicinal plants and seeds. Apart from this, he also grows many types of Indian vegetables every year.

India celebrates National Doctors Day on July 1, dedicated to the birth anniversary of the great doctor and statesman of the country, Dr. R.K. Roy. We are all grateful for the contribution of doctors in the Corona period. It is our duty to thank them with an equal measure of affection and encourage them.

Boat Ambulance Service was started at Dal Lake in Srinagar by Tanveer Ahmad Patho. He himself has also fought the battle with COVID-19 and inspired this him to start the Ambulance service. A campaign is also underway to make people aware of this ambulance, and continuous announcements from the ambulance are being made by him.

Chartered Accountants Day is also celebrated on July 1. Chartered Accountants can play a very worthy and positive role in bringing transparency to the economy. I extend my best wishes to all Chartered Accountants and their family members.

Each and every person of the country has played their part in India’s fight against Corona. Bank staff, teachers, small trackers and shopkeepers, people working in shops, street vendors, security watchmen, postmen and post office employees... and innumerable people involved with government and administration at different levels have all contributed. Guru Prasad Mohapatra, Secretary to the Government of India, was diagnosed with Corona and was admitted to the hospital, yet he was performing his official duties. He toiled day and night to increase the Oxygen producing capacities of the country and to ensure that Oxygen reached far flung areas, regardless of language, being on the highest bed. It is hard to find out that the country has also lost this Karma Yog. There are countless people who have never been discussed. Our tribute to each such person would be that we follow the COV-19 protocol fully, go to the extent of wearing masks.

Thiru R. Guruprasad from Chennai expressed his pride in Tamil language and compiled an e-book describing the greatness of Tamil language, culture, festivals and major places in Tamil Nadu in book titled ‘Tamil Ki Baat’. Every Indian should cherish and feel proud that the most ancient language of the world belongs to our country. I take a lot of pride in Tamil.

15th August is also approaching and Amrit Mahotsav of 75 years of freedom is full of big inspiration for us. Let us learn to live for the country. The Struggle for Independence is the story of those who died for the country. We have to make this post-Independence time the story of those who continue the struggle.

India, the country that has been dedicated to freedom fighters by remembering them. Young talents should come forward and research and write history of the freedom struggle with new energy. It is a matter of joy that the youth who have been born and brought up in the 21st century have taken up cudgels to bring to the forefront the history of the Freedom Struggle of 15th and 20th century. These writings on the freedom struggle are being written in different languages such as Hindi, English, Tamil, Kannada, Bengali, Telugu, Marathi, Malayalam, Gujarati. Trends are associated with the freedom struggle—gathering information about the places around them, and writing about tribal freedom fighters. I request all of you to join the Amrit Mahotsav, in whichever way you can. It is our good fortune that we are witness to the festival of 75 years of our Independence.

Olympic Games: Past and Present

The 2020 Summer Olympics, officially the Games of the XXXIX Olympiad, are scheduled to be held from July 23-August 8, 2021 in Tokyo, Japan. Originally scheduled to take place in 2020, the Games were postponed due to COVID-19 pandemic. The 2020 Games will mark the second time that Japan has hosted the Summer Olympic Games, the first being also in Tokyo in 1964, making it the first city in Asia to host the Summer Games twice. The mascot for the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games is named Miraitowa. Japanese words “mirai” mean “future” and “towa” mean “eternity,” representing “the wish that the Tokyo 2020 Olympic Games will lead to a future of everlasting hope in the hearts of everyone around the world.”

What are Olympics?

The Olympic Games is a quadrennial (held every four years) international multi-sport event, the world’s largest and most famous festival by people all over the world. The Games are the largest sporting celebration in the number of sports on the programme, the number of athletes present, the number of people from different nations gathered together at the same time in the same place.

The roots of today’s Games date back to the ancient Olympic Games, held over 2,000 years ago. Also known as the “Olympiad,” the event took place in the Olympic sanctuary of ancient Greece. It is believed that the event was an athletic and artistic festival dedicated to the worship of the gods. However, the ancient Olympic Games were hindered by numerous conflicts and finally came to an end in 393 AD. Fifteen hundred years later in 1892, a French educator named Baron Pierre de Coubertin began the Olympic revival movement. De Coubertin’s idea to reinstate the Olympic Games was presented to the audience at the international congress in Paris, 1894 and his proposal was unanimously approved. Two years later the first modern Olympic Games were held in Athens, Greece, the homeland of the ancient Olympic Games. The birth of the First Games, 1896 marked the beginning of an extraordinary adventure that has now lasted for over a century. De Coubertin is thus revered as the ‘Father of the Games’.

What are the five rings of the Games signify?

The well-known five rings symbol of the Olympic Games were also created by Baron de Coubertin, to express the solidarity of the world’s five continents. According to the Olympic Charter, “the Olympic symbol consists of five interlaced rings of equal dimensions (the Olympic rings), used alone, or in one or in different colours. When used in five-colour version, these colours shall be, from left to right, blue, yellow, black, green and red. The ‘Father of the Games’ preferred the blue, black and red rings are situated at the top, the yellow and green rings at the bottom.” The Charter says “the Olympic symbol expresses the activity of the Olympic Movement and represents the union of the five continents and the meeting of athletes from throughout the world at the Olympic Games.” The symbol has gone through several changes over the years. Today, there are seven official versions of the Olympic rings. The full-colour version on its white background is the preferred version.

What is International Olympic Committee?

The International Olympic Committee (IOC) is the guardian of the Olympic Games and the leader of the Olympic Movement. Established on June 23, 1894, the IOC is a not-for-profit independent international organisation. Based in Lausanne, Switzerland, the Olympic Capital, it is entirely privately funded and distributes 90 per cent of its revenues to the wider sporting movement, for the development of sport and athletes at all levels. It is also accredited as a catalyst for collaboration between all Olympic stakeholders, notably the athletes, National Olympic Committees, the International Federations, Organising Committees for the Olympic Games, the Worldwide Olympic Partners and Olympic broadcast partners. It also collaborates with public and private authorities including the United Nations and other international organisations.

What are the various sports in the Olympics?

The Olympic programme includes all the sports in the Olympic Games. The IOC sets the programme and decides which sports will be included. The IOC also has the right to add or remove any sport. In order to be included in the Olympic programme, a sport must be governed by an International Federation which complies with the Olympic Charter and applies the World Anti-Doping Code. If it is widely practised around the world and satisfies a number of criteria established by the IOC, its recognition may be added to the Olympic programme.

In Athens in 1896, nine sports were on the programme: athletics, cycling, fencing, gymnastics, weightlifting, wrestling, swimming, tennis and shooting. The Olympic programme has come a long way since: some sports have been discontinued (e.g., polo and baseball); others have disappeared and then reintroduced (e.g., archery and tennis), while several new sports have been added (e.g., triathlon and taekwondo). The two major sports of the programmes of the Summer Games are athletics and swimming. Athletics consists of a wide range of events: running, throwing, and sprint, middle-distance and long-distance races. Winter sports include sports like bobsledding, curling, ice hockey, figure and speed skating, skiing (cross-country and ski jumping) and the military patrol race. For these three main sports on the Winter Games programme are skating, skiing and ice hockey.
